

ANTARA

Antara has offered COVID Isolation Packages for all its team members who had/have been infected with the virus. This includes diet consultations, constant monitoring, and uninterrupted supply of essentials, including medicinal equipment. The company has offered an additional COVID insurance amounting to INR 2 Lakhs for all frontline team members and organised a complimentary vaccination drive in March & April. Antara has also constituted an Emergency Management Group to provide assistance to team members to procure hospital beds, plasma, home-cooked food, or anything else that they may require as they battle the disease.

Apart from these crucial measures, Antara has assured any additional leaves that team members may require to manage COVID. It initiated small tokens of appreciation in the form of gift vouchers for all its team members who have constantly been on the frontline and shouldered responsibilities of the organisation during these trying times. Furthermore, it has stepped up on sharing of positive feedback and recognition of their tireless efforts to keep the organisational morale high. To support the team in navigating through the pandemic with resilience and mental strength, 'Inner Hour', a psychological health platform was brought onboard. The support is in the form of tools, content, and webinars to generate awareness and enable a relaxed, happier and healthier state of mind.
